v.

BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc.)

Defendant/Respondent

MS. PERRY'S REPLY TO ATT'S ANSWER
AND AMENDMENTS

(First, as to any multiple copies I can not afford them. Previously, multiple copies were waived; I again ask for this waiver. As it is, I am emailing this document to save on postage.)

As to AT&T's response to # 1 - please note that I was induced to obtain internet service by the offer of a $50 rebate. It was only later that I received the rebate card and discovered that I would loose $5. I was forced to either not use the card and loose the whole $50 or use the card and loose the $5. Such was not a freely made choice.

As to AT&T's # 18 - on standing, I wish to be certified as representative of the class of all consumers who received an AT&T rebate card and request a class action as this is a very important and far-reaching issue.

As to AT&T's claims that the PSC lacks jurisdiction, I wish to note that all of the issues arose over my telephone bill of which the PSC regulates.

AMENDMENTS TO THE COMPLAINT

1. I wish to amend my complaint regarding the December bill so as to

a) add the 58 cents late fee

b) add the $4.80 overcharge for my internet services

-both of which I don't owe.

2. Regarding the November bill, I wish to amend my complaint as to

c) the 60 cents late fee which I don't owe, as apparently I received the $3 wrongful overcharge refund for internet services in December.

Respectfully submitted,

Sandi Perry
